Hi Shira – We have already put in a request for this information, but I do not think we will be able to produce it by May 5. We may need an additional week or two, but I should be in a better position to confirm timing on Monday evening. Thanks.

Hi Sara,

We understand that Google has announced the 2022 end-of-year bonus, equity refresh grants, and 2023 salaries to its employees. As such, we request that Google supplement discovery with this compensation information. We ask that you produce this by May 5, so that our expert may timely prepare an updated report. Please confirm that Google will be able to produce this information by that date.

Thanks,
Shira
